BUGLAR HELD HERE AFTER GIRL'S SLAY- SULZER REMOVED FROM OFFICE BY VOTE OF 43 TO 12 Throng Sees 27 Fall to Death From Clouds

DIRIGIBLE
PLACES
3,000
FEET

Crushed by Wreck of Vessel of Empire's
Aerial Fleet.

Clouds to The Atlanta Georgian, Oct. 17.—Twenty-seven men and officers of the United States Marine Corps
were killed when the dirigible
L-1, the biggest aircraft yet built, exploded 3,000 feet above the city of Washington, D. C.

Among the 27 persons on board the L-1 were the Admiralty Trial Court, headed by Commander
Herbert J. Dyer, and Captain
John H. Dyer.

Among the injured was Baron Von Moltke, who was making the L-1 a guest of the admiralty trial court.

Spark Caused Explosion.
Investigation showed the explosion was due to an electric spark from the engine which was caused by the L-1 leaving the water without a naval aerial float.

The explosion, which adds another chapter to the history of the L-1, was the last of a series of tragedies which have befallen
the L-1 since it was launched.

A number of government officials were on board the L-1 when it exploded. Those who were killed were: Captain John H. Dyer, Commander Herbert J. Dyer, and Lieutenant John H. Dyer.

The explosion of the L-1 was the first of a series of tragedies which have befallen the L-1
since it was launched.

SULZER, BEFORE AND AFTER

These two photographs show how worry and grief over his impeachment have aged Governor Sulzer. The photograph on the left was taken several months ago, and the one on the right a few days ago.

REMARKS BY INTERVIEWER HERE

EFFECT OF MOON IS BLAMED FOR HAUG SUICIDE

THOMASVILLE, Oct. 17.—All the mystery connected with the death
here last Monday of Miss Dorothy Haug, the pretty young Valdosta student, was cleared up Tuesday afternoon by the coroner's jury, in reconvened session, had before the report of Dr. C. C. Pragg, of the Folkston detective office in Atlanta.

His report, which followed a visit to the body, was regarded as conclusive evidence that the girl committed suicide, and a verdict was rendered in accordance with his testimony, directing removal from an incompetent man.

The depressing effect upon Miss Haug's mind of the full moon, which aggravated a mental complaint, and a disappointment in love, are said to have been the cause of the tragedy.

When the girl was found dead, she
was lying on her back, her head
resting on a pillow, and her arms
folded across her chest.

Feeling Was High.
Feeling was high here when the news arrived that the girl had died. At that time the coroner's jury had already rendered a verdict that Dorothy Haug had been murdered by an unknown party, and it would not have been possible to reopen the case.

When the girl was found dead, she
was lying on her back, her head
resting on a pillow, and her arms
folded across her chest.

Boy Hit by Negro Develops Tetanus And Is Near Death

Henry Leonard, Jr., eight years old, of No. 11 Morris avenue, died in the Atlanta Hospital near death, the victim of a kick landed by a Negro child.

Leonard is the grandson of the late Henry C. Leonard. Ten days ago he was playing in the back yard of his grandfather's home, when a Negro boy living on the street in the rear of the home, threw a rock at him, which struck him on the head.

The wound did not cause serious trouble until Thursday, when tetanus set in and he was removed to the hospital. It is said the boy has little chance for recovery.

Tennessee Assembly
Probes Bribe Charge

NASHVILLE, Oct. 17.—Monday
after midnight, the legislative committee investigating charges made by state Senator John H. Hays, exposed one of the most serious charges made in the state.

When the T. J. McFarland, who performed the autopsy, reported there was no bullet in the brain, but that the brain had been caused by a fracture of the skull, evidently by a blow, no
one doubted it.

But it is found.
Peace, however, believing the girl
not dead by her own hand, asked the Methodist if he would consent to having the top portion of the skull removed. Dr. McFarland agreed to his request, with the result that the mistake was found.

MRS. BARTON IS IN FLIGHT FROM CUTLER SUIT

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—Mrs. Isabelle T. Barton, who is being sued for $10,000 by Coleman Smith Cutler, a wealthy standard farmer of Atlanta,
for the alleged theft of his wife's affection, has fled to San Francisco.

The detectives had confidently expected to move the papers here.

But the suit, which was a well-known case, has been thrown back to the state court.

Still in question, Sulzer nerved
a statement, bitter, vindictive
and stinging in its terms. To-day it was promised as the closing chapter of
his career at the Executive Mansion.

Friends have suggested that the Governor devote himself in the future to a career of magazine writing and chauntic lectures. Already many offers have come to him which insure him a handsome income in either field.

The change he will try both.

Morse Planning Ship
Line From Savannah

SAVANNAH, Oct. 17.—Charles W.
Morse, who was 21 one time confined in the Federal penitentiary at Atlanta, is organizing a steamship line to run in competition with the Ocean Steamship company, between Savannah and New York, according to his application last night after his viewing several business men on the scene, and it is expected the father will also come.

weeks.

POSTED, HE CONSIDERS RETURN

Sulzer Gets Magazine Offers Also.
Bitter Statement Is Expected
From Deposed Executive.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 17.—William Sulzer was removed formally from the office of Governor of New York at 11:30 o'clock to-day by the vote of more than two-thirds of the high court of impeachment which convicted him of falsifying a public record, perjury and of attempting to induce another to commit perjury.

The vote was 43 to 12.
A Chief Justice Cullen and Senator
Wood did not vote.

At the time of the actual judgment
Martin H. Glavin became Governor for virtue of succession from office of Lieutenant Governor, and Robert G. Wagner, President of the Senate, became Lieutenant Governor.
Speculation as to what would happen if Sulzer will make which out of office took the place of the impeachment in the minds of the political workers.

Further Action Talked.
Purely collateral was another speculation as to whether or not an attempt would be made to bring criminal prosecution against Sulzer.

The indication was that no further action would be taken against the former Governor unless he made such charges against Tammany workers
as demanded a war of extermination.

The court voted first to-day on article 1, which charged him with having prevented Frederick L. Colwell from testifying. The unanimous vote was not guilty.

Then article 6 was read and "not guilty" voted in short order. The Governor charged had accepted the case at the beginning of the court's work when Chief Justice Cullen stated evidence bearing upon the question of lawrence long thought to point out the local shortcomings of the article.

Sulzer Statement.
Articles 7 and 8 charging that the Governor used the influence of his office to effect legislation on his direct primary bill and other bills, and with attempting to influence the price of stocks on the New York Stock Exchange, were put through the same rapid fire system of dismissal.

The Senators voted "not guilty" just as fast as they could be called.
Still in question, Sulzer nerved
a statement, bitter, vindictive
and stinging in its terms. To-day it
was promised as the closing chapter of
his career at the Executive Mansion.

Friends have suggested that the

Plot to Kill Huerta
Discovered; Troops
Guarding Palace

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian, MEXICO CITY, Oct. 17.—Troops guarded every avenue of approach to the national palace to-day following the discovery of a plot to assassinate General Huerta. Guards were placed about the palace last night, but to-day
the military cordon was extended half a mile from the building.

PRISON CHIEF SCORED BY GUARD

Present Employee Corroborates Charges by Hawthorne of the Mistreatment of Convicts.

As shocking as were the revelations of alleged conditions in the Atlanta Federal prison made by Justice Hawthorne when the doors opened to let him free, they were surpassed in their ugliness by a story related to The Georgian Friday by another man—not a convict under prison guard, but a convict recently liberated, as was Hawthorne, but a guard who has been working at the prison for years and who hopes to work there many more if the authorities do not succeed in learning his identity.

For obvious reasons he would not tell his story except under promise that his name would not be used. He declared that if Warden Meyer learned who it was who only had corroborated Hawthorne's story, but had added to it, the official would get busy at once and he (the guard)
would be without a job. That there are many other guards and employees at the prison who would testify to the actual conditions at the prison if anyone could guarantee that they would hold their positions afterward was the startling statement of this guard.

While the floodgates of criticism
have been opened upon the warden
by the sensational story of Hawthorne and his companion, Dr. W. J.
Morton, Meyer has not been without his staunch friends and defenders.
J. P. MacIntosh, medical director at the prison two and a half years, told The Georgian Friday that there was nothing to the charges.

A number of former convicts also have put in a good word for the warden and his aides and have accused the story that the prisoners are mistreated of slandering.

The guard who told his story to
The Georgian said that he was

2 Die, 6 Hurt, in South Carolina Fire

ANDERSON, S. C., Oct. 17.—Two men were killed and six others seriously wounded early to-day when a gasoline tank car exploded in a fire which broke out in the town of Anderson. The explosion was the result of a fire which broke out in the town of Anderson.

Answers Description.
In these particulars Henry Miller gave no satisfactory explanation of why he left Chicago. That he is a desperate character was proven by the daring of his Atlanta crimes.

Henry is being held under $5,000 bond for two cases of assault with intent to murder and four burglaries. He is accused of entering the home of Mr. Frank M. McWhorter, No.
31 East Morris avenue, and shooting at McWhorter when discovered. On Wednesday night, it is charged, the negro entered the home of R. C.
Bruce, No. 22 Simpson street. He shot at Bruce and then escaped. That same night he entered Miss Abshire's room in the hospital dormitory. The young woman, hearing the negro, told her roommate that she was sick and went out of the room. She then notified the police and the negro was captured after he left the dormitory.

Pictures Sent to Chicago.
J. F. Wright, the forensic expert at the police station, while questioning
the negro, found that he came from Chicago. In a cross-examination the negro made damaging statements regarding his knowledge of Chicago and the Langston murder. He has been photographed and a picture of him
sent to Chicago police for possible identification.

Horse and Big Prize

CLARKSVILLE, TENN., Oct. 17.—A few years ago A. M. Leach proposed to give a horse to the man who reported and proved that he was the legitimate owner of a certain horse. Some time ago Leach was with a claim for the horse and was told by the owner that the horse was because he was not a legitimate owner and was consequently not entitled to the horse. He was told that the horse was because he was not a legitimate owner and was consequently not entitled to the horse.

tragedy, following so closely after the loss of a dirigible, the L-1, which was wrecked over the North Sea in September with a loss of thirteen lives, created consternation throughout Germany.

Among the injured were Baron Von der Goltz, a former German general, and a number of other officers of the German army, who were making the dirigible as a guest of the dirigible.

REHALL MERCHANTS DUPED BY WHEELER COULD NOT GRAB DIRT

Merchants on Whitehall street between Mitchell street and Trinity avenue appeared visibly annoyed Friday on the anniversary of the injunction which has been issued by W. L. Kelley, manager of the East Georgia Company, No. 118 Whitehall street, to prevent the city from going on with the grading, which was started several days ago by the opening of the street.

All of the merchants with a single exception, had been busy almost noonday the grading when the project was described in the Commercial Appeal, but some of them now are of the opinion that it will not do any good to fight the city on the proposition, and as the conditions are determined to go ahead with the work, they are going to wait and see what the city will do.

One of the heads of the injunction is a Georgia lawyer and that the best way is to let the work continue and then complete the work as possible.

Others, however, and W. L. Kelley, are of the opinion that the merchants are going to be duped by the city and that they can force a delay until the city is forced to pay the cost of the work.

There are the opinions of some of the principal merchants in this block as given to The Georgian Friday.

MORRIS COMINS, Empire Furniture Company, No. 129 and 131 Whitehall street.

The existing proposition and the uncertainty which has been compared it already has been about as disastrous a thing as could have happened to us here. We are expected to be here now and I hope that the injunction will be sufficient to hold up the work until after the holidays, at least, although I would have preferred that there was no grading at all. It is a life a most severe penalty imposed on the merchants in this block to bring a doubtful benefit to the city and to the city.

Whatever the final decision, I would like to see it made at once. We are in a very bad way. Money paid into the project has been lost and the city has been forced to cancel many of our orders. We are in a very bad way.

It is in the progress of going to hold, we would like to know it. We are in a very bad way. We are in a very bad way.

In addition to the loss of trade, which the other merchants along the street will suffer because of the delay in the remodeling of the building, we will be forced to close the new grade. Altogether we will be in a very bad way.

It will hit us in the worst way. It will hit us in the worst way. It will hit us in the worst way.

WALTER J. WOOD, Secretary and Treasurer, No. 139 and 141 Whitehall street.

The injunction is a good thing. It would have obtained it, but it would have been a very bad thing. It would have been a very bad thing.

The next best thing is to hold up the work until after the holidays and winter seasons are over and the street is widened.

It establishes a record. Atlanta's income this year is $2,000,000 greater than last year. When all the other cities are in the same way, it is a very bad thing.

Every point of it passes through the hands of one man, and the business is in the hands of one man. It is a very bad thing.

It is a very bad thing. It is a very bad thing. It is a very bad thing.

It is a very bad thing. It is a very bad thing. It is a very bad thing.

MRS. BARTON FLIGHT FROM INSURGENT SUIT OF CUYLER FOR ALLENATION

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—Mrs. Isabelle Barton, who is being sued for divorce by Talmon Smith Cuyler, a wealthy student farmer of Atlanta, for the alienation of her husband's affections, today eluded detectives who had called her from Buffalo, N. Y., as a result of papers in the case were served and Mrs. Barton is spending her time in San Francisco with her mother-in-law. The detectives had confidently expected to serve the papers here.

Details of the suit, about which a bill of divorce has been thrown, were heard today. Cuyler charges that his mother-in-law turned his wife against him and induced her to bring suit for divorce, which was reportedly agreed to have been decided against him. He says that he married Mrs. Barton in 1920, and that she was a resident of Buffalo, N. Y., at the time. While he was away, he declares, his mother-in-law persuaded his wife's mind against him and induced her to sue for divorce on the grounds of non-support.

The extraordinary action Cuyler has begun a fight for his children, who are at Mrs. Barton's home in the West.

Police detectives searching for Mrs. Barton said she is today some distance from Chicago and New York.

From the statements of John M. Rankin, a lawyer representing Cuyler, it appears that that ardent ex-husband fled his suit in a misapprehension.

Mrs. Cuyler has been in Atlanta awaiting word of the arrival of his wife in New York, where he was to meet her, said Rankin. "It appears she was on her way to New York with her mother and a maid. They stopped off at Buffalo to visit relatives. He heard a report that her mother had persuaded her to turn back to go to San Francisco and not see him. Hence the suit. If a reconciliation is made, then the suit will be dismissed."

Mr. Rankin and deputy sheriffs kept an all-night vigil at the depot waiting to serve a summons on Mrs. Barton.

Atlanta friends of Mrs. Cuyler today denied any knowledge of the suit, though it has long been rumored that he contemplated taking some legal action against his wife's mother, who it is understood he blames for all his domestic difficulties. At the Aragon Hotel, where Mrs. Cuyler and his mother, Mrs. H. H. Smith, have apartments, it was stated that Mr. Cuyler left for Birmingham last Wednesday, without leaving word when he would return. Mrs. Smith refused to discuss the case.

Plenty of Hot Water Almost Instantly

We state positively and can prove it—the cheapest and most efficient water heater for any home is the "Cadet" Heater—set up ready for use, $15.00. This heater is cast iron, and the fire box is literally lined with twenty-one (21) feet of 3-4 inch galvanized pipe in 7 coils, which comes in direct contact with the fire.

A handful of chips or a shovel of coal will give you a boiler full of hot water in less than ten minutes.

We insist that the "Cadet" is the cheapest heater in the world at $15.00, set up ready for use. True, you can get a makeshift for $12.50, maybe, but compare them. The cheaper ones have about only 2½ coils of pipe or about 7 feet, and weigh about half as much as the "Cadet."

A "Cadet" Heater will last a lifetime. It is guaranteed by us and we are right here to make our guarantee absolutely good. If you insist, any stove dealer will get and install you a "Cadet" Heater for $15.00.

PROTECTORATE OVER MEXICO DEMANDED

House Member Declares U. S. Should Restore Peace—Two More Americans Murdered.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 17.—The Mexican populace was wildly excited this afternoon by extraneous rumors.

It was that General Huerta had been arrested and was being transported in the National Palace. Members of the Cabinet denied the report.

COLUMBIAN, Oct. 17.—Representative Shawcross, of Ohio, today demanded in the House that the United States join with other powers in establishing a protectorate over Mexico for the restoration of peace.

He argued that such action would not only restore peace but also would prevent the Monroe Doctrine, and said that he had no criticism to make of President Wilson's policy.

President Wilson's policy, he said, was in using moral suasion and other diplomatic means in the settlement of the Mexican question.

Shawcross, who is a member of the House, said that the United States should assume all the financial and military responsibilities of the people in Mexico.

A Few Words About Our Hosiery

We buy only the BEST and turn over to our customers every pair in A-1 condition without any imperfections. There are no hosiery sold here with the story that "they are good seconds or just a thread dropped and won't make any difference." It will make a great difference, for once the thread IS BROKEN nothing can save that stocking. You can mend till your eyes are gone—the stocking is doomed. If you buy a child's stocking and one thread weak or gone at knees, you might as well throw away.

OUR BUYER in selecting his Hosiery takes his time in looking into the merits of the goods before they are sold over our counters. Buy good Hosiery—It pays. We have the exclusive agency for "Cadet" Hosiery in Atlanta, and we seldom get a pair brought back in a month. This means something.

A Showing of the New Autumn Laces To-morrow

When boxes of new laces are opened women are interested! On top of this some of these laces are very remarkably priced. A fine day to-morrow for women!

They shall see all the laces that are now wanted for the new waists, dresses and underwear—for the "soft styles," as they have been called—perhaps so called because softness is the very quality that these laces lend to the styles.

At least this seems to have been the idea of Paul Poirer when he (for instance) gave us the Minaret gown and incidentally a great impetus to the use of laces.

Shadow Laces—Cream, white and black, edges, bands, flouncings and all others in high favor because they are so tissue-like.

Chantilly Laces, the always elegant lace—new patterns, in edges, bands, flouncings and all others, white, cream and black.

Net Top Laces, soft, delicate, dainty—much sought for overdrapings of evening dresses. Edges, bands and all others; white, cream and black.

Camisolé Laces for the transparent dresses, with ribbon braiding at top and bottom; they are 12 to 18 inches wide and specially priced at 29c, 50c and 75c a yard.

Shadow Nets, beautiful, 42 inches wide, white, cream, tan and black, $1.00 to $5.00 a yard.

Point d'Esprit, 36 to 45 inches wide; cream, flesh and black, 50c to $3.00 a yard.

Plain Nets, 32 to 72 inches wide; cream, flesh and black, 50c to $2.00 a yard.

Conversational Openings

By MRS. FRANK LEARNED

Author of "Etiquette in New York City"

"TALKING" begins at a conversation is something like a "game" in which you must make a clever reply to any very commonplace thing. If you can catch anything at all, you may fall; nothing comes to your mind; you may have a little but, or perhaps, a big one. Any way, you have to try.

When an introduction is made and conversation begins it may be necessary to say very commonplace things. Simple remarks about obvious things are not despised by many. Natural remarks about what is of momentary or passing interest may open a way to pleasant talk.

Up-to-the-Minute Jokes

"I said a Sunday school teacher, 'I want each of you to write something toward the mission on the Carbons.' I shall hand the box back, and as each of you contributes you will, I hope, my some appropriate line. Now, Charlie, show a good example." Fredy, who was a good student, dropped his pen, and, after a moment, he said: "I'll be glad to give this to you."

Sunday's Hearst's American Will Be Brimful of Good Things to Read—Don't Miss It.

If you were to buy a pound of steak and the merchant would add a peck of potatoes without extra charge, you would feel that you had a real bargain.

There's a better one in Hearst's Sunday American.

You pay five cents for a newspaper.

You get a newspaper—the best the South has ever known.

But you get more.

You get a magazine more interesting and illuminating, more instructive and artistic, and more valuable than two-thirds of the publications for which you pay three times as much each month.

You get a section devoted to humor that makes the weekly magazines devoted to fun seem as sad as the sorrowing sobbing of a sixteen-year-old girl suffering from unrequited affection.

Just take next Sunday's issue for example. It's typical. It's typical because it's great.

We'll forget the big news sections for the moment.

Let's turn to the magazine pages.

The very first page strikes you. It tells every housewife where the pots and pans of her kitchen came from originally. It deals in interesting detail with the recent discoveries in Sardis that throw new light on prehistoric domestic habits. It is illustrated with paintings made by the Etruscans more than 3,000 years ago. The article is alive with interest to the student of history, of archaeology, of art, of science or those who feel a new interest in life when the smell of good things cooking is wafted from the kitchen.

Turn to the next page. It contains information worth twice the purchase price of the paper. In its eight columns it contains something of personal interest to every class of mankind.

There is a scientific discussion of why the moon makes you swoon and how the sun stops you.

It tells of a marvelous night mirror operated by wireless that makes the seas safe. It tells of an artificial kidney invented to prevent suicide. Automobiles are told how gasoline can be made cheaper. You devotees of the modern dance can here learn how the lango wards off gray hairs.

Over on the third page there is a story of real life more thrilling than fiction. It is the history of the miserable finish of the notorious and clandestine Mont-Brown romance, whose chief actors risked all there is in life on the loving chance that "true love excuses everything." And the lesson it teaches is that happiness can not be bought at the cost of sin.

Every animal lover will find a mine of information on page four. Convincing evidence is there collected by a distinguished scientist, who cites his psychological experiments to prove that man's faithful four-footed friend, the dog, is as capable of reasoning as his master.

And then there's a story, too, of how Secretary of State Bryan dressed up the "September Morn" mummies of Mexico.

Turn the page and you encounter the thrilling story of how the wickedest woman in Paris paid the penalty of her sin. This narrative of the tragedy of a modern Othello reveals the growing degradation of Parisian society. It is a wonderful story, wonderfully illustrated.

Again turning, the reader will find two pages devoted to that marvelous life story of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw—the fourth installment of the most extraordinary human document ever written, stranger than any story in fiction or drama. This installment tells of Evelyn's life as Harry's bride among the Thaws in Pittsburgh and how Stanford White tried to poison her mind against her husband. It is just as grippingly interesting as the stories that have gone before. It gives a marvelous insight into the life of Pittsburgh's plutocracy.

The next page is a mine of information. It tells of new things not found in any book. There is a story of how Helmut Keller's useless car drums respond to a powerful violin note, of how bright colors are the huntsman's best aid. You can learn how to make a farmhouse efficient and comfortable, how civilization makes us immune to many diseases. You are told things to remember when you buy a pipe, what your finger nails tell about you and what nothingness is made of.

Everyone has been interested in little Manuel of Portugal. His sensational reign is still fresh in memory. His dramatic de-thronement, his flight to England, his marriage to the pretty Princess of the Hohenzollerns have followed in quick succession. And now we are told why Manuel couldn't stay married. The story is told by the girl who kicked the little King off his throne, Gaby Deslys, the famous French dancer. Her story explains why the Princess who got him couldn't keep him. It's a real story.

In this day of woman's progress in the civilized nations, it is strange to learn that in secluded Tibet the suffrage movement has been in force for years. In a deeply interesting story Mrs. Nalk Komishewa, the first native Tibetan woman to visit America, explains how women have ruled the men of her country for 800 years, how they do all the proposing and how they send their husbands to the monasteries whenever they tire of them.

Five million dollars of golden treasure is to be garnered by an expedition of fortune seekers. The American has a narrative telling how success at last awaits the searchers for the vast golden hoard of the warship Lutina, sunk beneath the Zuyder Zee 113 years ago.

Then there is a page of patterns and Lady Duff-Gordon's description of the latest feminine fashions.

But all this isn't half. The world's most famous comic artists parade their creations for you. There's Powers and Fisher and Swinnerton and Oppen, McCay and McManus. They will give anybody a solid half hour of fun.

The cable pages are ripe with articles written by men who know the inside happenings of the Old World capitals.

Our own politics are discussed by men who know Washington as thoroughly as James B. Nevin knows his Georgia.

On the sport pages there is a wonderful array of experts. With the football season of the South under way, there is some mighty interesting reading in the articles of J. W. Heisman, Imit Brown, O. E. Keeler, and W. S. Farnsworth. The big events of the East and West are covered completely by men famous in the world of sport.

Every other possible element of news interest is covered in the same way.

And this assures the fact that next Sunday's American will be Dixie's most complete newspaper.

A Little Picture of "Proud Man"

It depends upon your point of view, upon your quality of heart and conscience, Mr. Man, how this kind of a picture affects you. (See Editorial.)

The Voice on the Waters

The wireless signal "S. O. S." is the international call for help. Every ship reached by it rushes to the aid of the vessel sending out the appeal. It was the S. O. S. that brought ten great steamships to the assistance of the burning Volturno.

STARS AND STRIPES

Girls in West Virginia are not to be permitted to wear beads during working hours, class legislation of course in favor of safe deposit and trust companies.

Irish ex-convicts growl. John Redmond is a grand old man of times.

Sam Houston's portrait has come down from the Texas State House and Joe Baller's has taken its place. It is to be noted that the portrait of deposit accompanied the exchange.

No such word as "predication" in the Balkan dictionary.

A country that hasn't been explored in 7,000 years isn't worth a place in the map.

"Stand Aside, Mother—You Don't Know Enough to Vote"

The Vilest Man Would Be Ashamed to Say That to His Own Mother. But in Nearly All States That is What the Law Says TO ALL MOTHERS.

Copyright, 1915, by Rex Cowles

The picture at the top of this page is an exact picture of the mental machinery of the underbred, half intelligent, THOROUGHLY UNGRATEFUL son of woman, who believes that woman's right to vote.

Proud man, as a BABY, is very glad to lie on his mother's breast, to be fed and cared for, and protected, perhaps, against a drunken father. His mother seems to him quite intelligent enough to attend to THAT work.

A little later, proud man is glad to have mother comb his hair, wipe his nose, and tuck him in bed, and save and skim, denying herself, that he may have decent clothes, and not be laughed at by the boys at school. She does not seem to him inferior at THAT moment.

And when his first big sorrow comes—when some girl has had the good sense to tell him that he looks very silly to her, and not worth thinking about, he is glad to get comfort for his pride and his torn heart from that same mother. To him she then seems like the incarnation of ALL wisdom and of all goodness.

But watch him a little later, when, thanks to her care, he has been "raised," pulled through one sickness after another, and has reached the age of twenty-one.

Then a strange and interesting change comes over his magnificent intellect.

HE IS GOING TO VOTE.

And all of a sudden, "Mother," becomes a pitiful inferior, not to be spoken of in the same breath with her distinguished son.

"Stand aside, mother," says he. "This is too deep and too profound for you."

She knows what life is, what the dangers are that attack boys especially.

If she is rich and her boy has had money, she knows to her sorrow the curse of whiskey and of gambling.

Her own goodness does not save her from suffering through her son. But she is merely the mother of the son, and must not be permitted to vote against the politicians and the corruptors who live by gambling and whiskey.

If she is poor she has struggled to feed and clothe that boy from his babyhood. Her pitiful income has been taxed by one trust after another. But she is not good enough to vote to protect herself against those trusts that inflict upon her taxation without representation.

She has seen streets, parks and schools neglected, immorality, degradation and blackmail permitted at her very door—and she must not vote to protect herself against the vile system that is the result of VOTES BY MEN EXCLUSIVELY.

Pity the poor dog calling himself a man who would not be willing to let his own mother vote.

But do not permit him to say that the vote shall not be given to the mothers of other men.

If a man admits, as he must admit, that the goodness, patience, devotion of the human race are seen especially in the mothers, how in the name even of brutality can any man deny that those qualities of good women should find expression at the polls.

All women will vote in this country—and very soon—in spite of brutality, ignorance, bigotry, that wants women kept ignorant, and the monkey-like conceits that has distinguished a majority of men thus far.

Every animal lover will find a mine of information on page four. Convincing evidence is there collected by a distinguished scientist, who cites his psychological experiments to prove that man's faithful four-footed friend, the dog, is as capable of reasoning as his master.

And then there's a story, too, of how Secretary of State Bryan dressed up the "September Morn" mummies of Mexico.

Turn the page and you encounter the thrilling story of how the wickedest woman in Paris paid the penalty of her sin. This narrative of the tragedy of a modern Circe reveals the growing degradation of Parisian society. It is a wonderful story, wonderfully illustrated.

Again turning, the reader will find two pages devoted to that marvelous life story of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw—the fourth installment of the most extraordinary human document ever written, stranger than any story in fiction or drama. This installment tells of Evelyn's life as Harry's bride among the Thaws in Pittsburgh and how Stanford White tried to poison her mind against her husband. It is just as grippingly interesting as the stories that have gone before. It gives a marvelous insight into the life of Pittsburgh's plutocracy.

The next page is a mine of information. It tells of new things not found in any book. There is a story of how Helen Keller's tactile ear drums respond to a powerful violin note, of how bright colors are the human's best aid. You can learn how to make a farmhouse efficient and comfortable, how civilization makes us immune to many diseases. You are told things to remember when you buy a pipe, what your finger nails tell about you and what nothingness is made of.

Everyone has been interested in little Manuel of Portugal. His sensational reign is still fresh in memory. His dramatic dethronement, his flight to England, his marriage to the pretty Princess of the Hohenzollerns have followed in quick succession. And now we are told why Manuel couldn't stay married. The story is told by the girl who kicked the little King off his throne, Gaby Deslys, the famous French dancer. Her story explains why the Princess who got him couldn't keep him. It's a real story.

In this day of woman's progress in the civilized nations, it is strange to learn that in secluded Tibet the suffrage movement has been in force for years. In a deeply interesting story Mrs. Nalk Komtshewa, the first native Tibetan woman to visit America, explains how women have ruled the men of her country for 600 years, how they do all the proposing and how they send their husbands to the monasteries whenever they tire of them.

Five million dollars of golden treasure is to be garnered by an expedition of fortune seekers. The American has a narrative telling how success at last awaits the searchers for the vast golden hoard of the warship Lutine, sunk beneath the Zuyder Zee 113 years ago.

Then there is a page of patterns and Lady Duff Gordon's description of the latest feminine fashions.

But all this isn't half. The world's most famous comic artists parade their creations for you. There's Powers and Fisher and Swinnerton and Oppen, MacKay and McManus. They will give anybody a solid half hour of fun.

The cable pages are ripe with articles written by men who know the inside how the Old World capital.

Our own politics are discussed by men who know Washington as thoroughly as James B. Nevin knows his Georgia.

On the sport pages there is a wonderful array of experts. With the football season of the South under way, there is some mighty interesting reading in the articles of J. W. Heisman, Innis Brown, O. B. Keeler, and W. S. Farnsworth. The big events of the East and West are covered completely by men famous in the world of sport.

Every other possible element of news interest is covered in the same way.

And this assures the fact that next Sunday's American will be Dixie's most complete newspaper.

A Little Picture of "Proud Man"

It depends upon your point of view, upon your quality of heart and conscience, Mr. Man, how this kind of a picture affects you. (See Editorial.)

The Voice on the Waters

The wireless signal "S. O. S." is the international call for help. Every ship reached by it rushes to the aid of the vessel sending out the appeal. It was the S. O. S. that brought ten great steamships to the assistance of the burning Volturno.

STARS AND STRIPES

Girls in West Virginia are not to be permitted to wear towels during working hours—class legislation, of course. In Texas, a deposit and trust company.

Open Work. Numerous men defect for gun bills in mail's stock.

Sam Houston's portrait has come down from the Texas State House and Joe Bailey's has taken its place. It is to be a tribute of respect accompanied the cashing.

No such word as "perfection" in the Balkan dictionary. A country that hasn't been explored by T. H. isn't worth a place on the map.

"Stand Aside, Mother—You Don't Know Enough to Vote"

The Vildest Man Would Be Ashamed to Say That to His Own Mother. But in Nearly All States That Is What the Law Says TO ALL MOTHERS.

Copyright, 1913, by Star Company

The picture at the top of this page is an exact picture of the mental machinery of the underbred, half intelligent, THEOROUGHLY UNGRATEFUL son of woman, who believes that woman is unfit to vote.

Proud man, as a BABY, is very glad to lie on his mother's breast, to be fed and cared for, and protected, perhaps, against a drunken father. His mother seems to him quite intelligent enough to attend to THAT work.

A little later, proud man is glad to have mother comb his hair, wipe his nose, and tuck him in bed, and save and skip, denying herself, that he may have decent clothes, and not be laughed at by the boys at school. She does not seem to him inferior at THAT moment.

And when his first big sorrow comes—when some girl has had the good sense to tell him that he looks very silly to her, and not worth thinking about, he is glad to get comfort for his pride and his torn heart from that same mother. To him she then seems like the incarnation of ALL wisdom and of all goodness.

But watch him a little later, when, thanks to her care, he has been "raised," pulled through one sickness after another, and has reached the age of twenty-one.

Then a strange and interesting change comes over his magnificent intellect.

HE IS GOING TO VOTE.

And all of a sudden, "Mother," becomes a pitiful inferior, not to be spoken of in the same breath with her distinguished son. "Stand aside Mother," says he. "This is too deep and too profound for you."

She knows what life is, what the dangers are that threaten boys especially.

If she is rich and her boy has had money, she knows to her sorrow the curse of whiskey and of gambling.

Her own goodness does not save her from suffering through her son. But she is merely the mother of the son, and must not be permitted to vote against the politicians and the corruptocrats who live by gambling and whiskey.

If she is poor she has struggled to feed and clothe that boy from his babyhood. Her pitiful income has been taxed by one trust after another. But she is not good enough to vote to protect herself against those trusts that inflict upon her taxation without representation.

She has seen streets, parks and schools neglected, immorality, degradation and blackmail permitted at her very door—and she must not vote to protect herself against the vile system that is the result of VOTES BY MEN EXCLUSIVELY.

Pity the poor dog calling himself a man who would not be willing to let his own mother vote.

But do not permit him to say that the vote shall not be given to the mothers of other men.

If a man admits, as he must admit, that the goodness, patience, devotion of the human race are seen especially in the mothers, how in the name even of brutality can any man deny that those qualities of good women should find expression at the polls.

All women will vote in this country—and very soon—in spite of brutality, ignorance, bigotry, that wants women kept ignorant, and the monkey-like council that has distinguished a majority of men these days.

'Joy Ride Mystery' Explained by Deputy

The investigation of an automobile accident on the Howell Mill road bridge Thursday night, begun when it was reported a young woman had been hurt and spirited away, was abandoned Friday after an explanation made by Deputy Sheriff Harry Latham, one of the occupants of the wrecked machine.

The accident was not the result of a joy ride, Latham declared. "The occupants of the car were myself, a young woman and a young man. The machine was going slowly when we started to cross the bridge. The chauffeur did not know of the beam in the center of the bridge. The car turned over, so one was hurt."

The contents and second stories of each were burned.

In your hand you hold a five-cent piece.

Right at the grocer's hand is a moisture-proof package of Uneeda Biscuit. He hands you the package—you hand him the coin. A trifling transaction?

No! A remarkable one—for you have spent the smallest sum that will buy a package of good food; and the grocer has sold you the most nutritious food made from flour—as clean and crisp and delicious as it was when it came from the oven.
